QUIROZ SANTRONI abogados consultores recognized as leading firm in environment and one of the leading corporate-commercial practice and tourism in Dominican Republic

By Quiroz Santroni

It is great satisfaction for all the staff at QUIROZ SANTRONI, Abogados Consultores, to share with our customers, strategic partners and collaborators the recognition of our firm with the nomination as leading firm in environment, as well as one of the leading corporate-commercial and tourism in the Dominican Republic, according to rankings announced for 2016 by the prestigious British publisher Chambers & Partners, which took place last September 26th, at the annual meeting of the institution, held at Fontainebleau hotel, in Miami, United States.

In addition to stand out as legal firm in these areas, also our partners were recognized: both José Quiroz and Hipólito García were nominated as leaders in corporate-commercial practice, while Romina Santroni was nominated as a leader in the environment practice and as remarkable professional in Tourism and Real Estate, for its long and vast experience in the sector and in supervising projects within these industries.

Being surveyed by Chambers & Partners, some of our clients testified:

“What I really value, apart from the experience of the team, is the fact that you deal directly with the partners in all of your transactions” ,

“The excellent Romina Santroni heads the department and is widely regarded as a highly specialised environmental lawyer” . Sources describe her as “energetic, knowledgeable, responsive, concise and business-oriented” ,

“Jose Quiroz Abreu is a very hard worker who really listens to his clients and gives precise, smart answers” ,

“The excellent Hipólito García Caminero head the firm's banking and finance practice” ,

“These lawyers are excellent and incredibly responsive. They provide a personalised service and are really dedicated to the clients” .

This recognition is the result of your confidence in our team and that is why we reaffirm the commitment and the desire to continue on the path of improvement and innovation, to meet and exceed the expectations.

Thank you very much to all our customers, partners and strategic allies for this great recognition you make us through Chambers & Partners.
